

A boil water notice was shared by the University via student emails. A staff member immediately posted it to our “Breaking News” Discord chat. Within 10 minutes of the email going out, we had a graphic created and posted it to our social media.